

Basketball Night

My friend Bill left my place after learning his son had a bad car accident. He promised to text an update, but none came. I became worried and couldn't watch our game. And then I didn't have the guts to call and ask if everything would be okay. Anxiety won out that night.

Norbert Kovacs